

J. T. ROBINSON TAKES GAVEL AS CHAIRMAN

ARKANSAS SENATOR ADDRESS-ES DEMOCRATS AT NATION-AL CONVENTION.

PROPOSED TO WET PLANK

Possible Vice-Presidential Nominee Deplores Agricultural Conditions As He Becomes Chairman.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 27. (UP)— Senator Robinson of Arkansas, permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention, in making his initial address today, suggested that the wet plank be inserted in our platform.

"It is true," he said, "that the Democratic party is not a prohibition party. Neither is it an anti-prohibition party. The fear that this convention will attempt to commit the party to a wet plank has alarmed many Southern Democrats who favor the continuance of prohibition because of the evidence of its economic and moral value in the progress of the South.
To ignore the practical political aspect of this question is to invite and encourage division in our ranks and to submerge these fundamental issues for which we can unite in consent."

He declared that as Congress now is constituted and as it likely will be composed for many years to come, there "appears no likelihood of repeal or nullification of the 18th amendment."

The Senator paralleled his enumeration of Democratic issues and principles with vigorous criticism of the Republican platform and administration. The execution of national affairs during the past seven years was characterized as "indefensible from any standpoint."

"The prosperity of the present," he continued, "by no means equals that under Democratic control. The secretary of the treasury admits in his annual report for 1927 that conditions during that year were worse than in 1926. The President's industrial conference board asserted that business prosperity in the United States is entirely to giant corporations." The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce were said to have reported that four hundred thousand concerns out of one hundred thousand earning no profits.

Robinson described as "totally false" the claim that the Democratic party cannot be trusted to promote sound business and asserted with resounding emphasis that his party had been throughout its history "the champion of lawful enterprise and the defender of legitimate business."

The speaker deplored the depressed condition of agriculture and called for effective Republican platform pledge to increased tariff duties on farm products.

"The Republican party has betrayed the farmers of the United States and now again seeks to deceive them with new false promises," Robinson said.

"The economic equality of agriculture with other industries may be obtained by reducing the tariff on manufactured articles consumed by farmers, by a system of export debentures, or by adoption of the McNary-Haugen principle. How can such

NOTED POLAR EXPLORER AND PARTY SEEN BY SEAL HUN-TER, REPORT.

RESCUE SHIPS ASSEMBLED

All Resources of Far North Gather To Rescue Amundsen; French Aviators, Scaplane.

OSLO, Norway, June 27. (UP)— Thirty arctic vessels, in the area between Tromsø and Spitzbergen, were ordered by the government today to begin an immediate search for the French seaplane carrying Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, and his five companions, missing since June 18.

In addition four vessels prepared today to join the rescue expedition in the Spitzbergen area—the French cruiser Strassbourg and the giant Russian icebreaker Krassin, which arrived at Tromsø yesterday, and the steamships Hobby and Veslokari, which are to be fitted immediately to join in the search for the lost Italia crew and for Amundsen's party.

TROMSØ, NORWAY, June 27 (UP)—The local Meteorological radio station today intercepted a message from Archangel, Russia, transmitting an unconfirmed report that a Nor-the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Meri T. Christy of Akron, Ohio, will give

Favor Air Circus For County Fair

PLANES FROM SELFREDGE FIELD WOULD BE FEATURE ATTRACTION.

Efforts are being made to secure an Airplane carnival for Greencastle during the Putnam County fair which will be held in September. It is believed a force under Lt. Frank Irwin who is now in command of the Air Squadron at Selfredge Field, Mich., may come to Greencastle to put on their thrilling stunts.

There are seven in the outfit which have been going to some of the larger cities to dedicate air fields and do other things, which causes one to almost stop breathing.

Mr. Irwin has been in the air service of the past few years and only this week was placed in command of the squadron at Selfredge Field. Lt.
Irwin has been over Greencastle a few times in his plane, and with six others doing some of the stunts he does and they all do, would be one of the greatest drawing cards obtainable for the County Fair.

INTER-CITY MEETING

An inter-city Kiwanis meeting was held at Crawfordsville Tuesday evening, when members from Lebanon, Frankfort, Attica and Lafayette attended. A cup which will go to the club having the largest attendance at these inter-city meetings was presented by Bob Chambers of Evansville, Milt Brown of the Greencastle club represented Mr. Chambers at the meeting. Mr. Brown has been named to present the cup plan to the club members in this district, which comprises about a dozen clubs, and he with other Greencastle members attended the Crawfordsville meeting Tuesday evening.

Fred S. Purnell of Attica, was one of the speakers Tuesday evening.
More than one hundred and fifty members attended the meeting.

AGED MAN IS SUMMONED BY GRIM REAPER

LORENZO MOORE, 91 DIES AT HOME SOUTHEAST OF GREENCASTLE.

WELL KNOWN IN COMMUNITY

Deceased Was Prominent Man In Affairs Many Years Ago. Was Former School Teacher.

Lorenzo Moore, 91 years old, resident of Putnam County, during his entire life-time, died at his home at Flatwoods, southeast of here, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. He had been seriously sick for the past four weeks, but had been in failing health for many years.

He is survived by two sons, Ross of Putnamville and Orin, and one sister Miss Carrie Moore. Orin and Miss Moore both made their home with the father and sister.

Mr. Moore was a former school teacher in the days of the old "hickory stick" and was very prominent in the educational affairs of his day.

Mr. Moore was born and reared in Putnam County and spent his entire life here, and had witnessed its development from the primitive stages of the old pioneer days to its present state of development.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the McCurry Funeral Home. Burial will be in Forest Hill Cemetery.

THE ROTARY MEETING

Ed Hamilton, the club delegate to the International convention of Rotary at Minneapolis, spoke on his trip at the luncheon Wednesday. Mr.
Hamilton reviewed the program briefly and in an interesting manner.

Another speaker was C. A. Teverbaugh, state secretary of the Y. M. C.
A. and interested in the camp conducted by the organization at Camp Bedford.

The club voted to meet on Thursday instead of Wednesday during July and August, because of the Wednesday afternoon closing by the merchants of the city.

Plunges To Death At Niagara Falls

GREEK PRIEST IS BELIEVED TO BE SUICIDE
VICTIM.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 27 (UP)—Intensive search was started today by officials on both the American and Canadian sides of Niagara Falls for the body of a man thought to be Mitrophan Poplavsky, Greek Orthodox priest of Ansonia, Conn. The man plunged to his death late yesterday.

C. L. Berkheimer of Muncie, Ind., an eye witness to the tragedy, said that the man shouted to him to gather up his clothes left lying on the bank.
After shouting, the strong current pulled him over the precipice.

BOWERS RAPS REPUBLICANS AT HOUSTON

KEYNOTE SPEECH IS DELIVER-ED AT NATIONAL DEMOCRAT CONVENTION.

ASSAILS RECORD OF G. O. P.

Claude G. Bowers Charges Republicans With Plunder and Arrogance.
Tribute To Wilson-Jefferson.

CONVENTION HALL, HOUSTON, June 27. (UP)—A call to arms for a war of extermination against the Republican "plunderbund," the "Black Horse cavalry of privilege and pillage," was sounded last night by Claude G. Bowers in the keynote speech of the Democratic National Convention.

The militant editor from Indiana and New York in a speech studded with bitter phrases, charged the Republican party and administration with responsibility for oil scandals, Hamiltonian federalism in government, fake prosperity, mythical economy and mythical men, and a foreign policy "which has made us the most distrusted and unpopular nation on the globe."

Devoting most of his speech to the attack on the party in power, Bowers summoned the Democratic hosts to fight united. He pleaded also for the support of "independents and progressives" in his party's battle for "popular government."

He said, in part:—
The American Democracy has mobilized today to wage a war of examination against privilege and pillage.
We prime our guns against autocracy and bureaucracy. We march against that centralization which threatens the liberties of the people.
We fight for the republic of the fathers, and for the recovery of the covenant from the keeping of a caste and class. We battle for the honor of the nation, besmirched and bedraggled by the most brazen and shameless carnival of corruption that ever blackened the reputation of a decent and self-respecting people.

We stand for the spirit of the preamble of the Declaration that is made a mockery: for the Bill of Rights that is ignored; for the social and economic justice which is refused; for the sovereign rights of States that are denied; and for a return to the old-fashioned civic integrity of a Jackson, a Tilden, a Cleveland and a Wilson. We stand for the restoration of the government to the people who built it by their bravery and cemented it with their blood.

We do not underestimate the enemy. The little gilded group that now owns and controls the government can pour a golden stream into the slush fund and make no impression on the fortunes they have legislated into their coffers. The enemy enters the campaign unembarrassed by a debt—Harry Sinclair has paid that off. It enters the campaign with his money in its pocket and his blessing on its head.

For forty years the party in power has conspired with the name of Lincoln while following the leadership of Hamilton; and now, after eight years of successful privilege and pillage it throws off the Lincolnism mask. It could hardly keep the Lincoln mask on its face and Sinclair's money in its chest.

Thus at Kansas City, where they dramatized the issue, it was not Lincoln, but Hamilton who rode at the head of the procession.

Two Political Schools
Thus they frankly base their policies on the political principles of Hamilton; and we go forth to battle for the principles of Thomas Jefferson.

The issues are as fundamental as they were when Jefferson and Hamilton crossed swords more than a century ago. To understand the conflicting views of these two men on the functions of government is to grasp the deep significance of this campaign.

Now Hamilton believed in the rule of an aristocracy of money, and Jefferson in a democracy of men.

Hamilton believed that governments are created for the domination of the masses, and Jefferson that they are created for the service of the people.

Hamilton wrote to Morris that governments are strong in proportion as they are made profitable to the powerful; and Jefferson knew that no government is fit to live that does not conserve the interest of the average man.

Hamilton proposed a scheme for binding the wealthy to the government by making government a source of revenue to the wealthy; and Jefferson unfurled his banner of equal rights.

Hamilton wanted to wipe out the

NEW FORD SEDAN PLACED ON DISPLAY

Twenty-sixth Model To Be Received

King, Morrison and Foster Ford dealers, placed a new Ford sedan on display on the public square Wednesday morning. It was the twenty-sixth car of this model to come to Indiana, and attracted widespread attention among motorists of the city.
Plans had been made to show the car in the lobby of the Central National Bank, but it was too wide by an inch, to go through the doors, and had to be displayed on the side walk.

The car will be on display for the remainder of the week, after which it will be delivered to Charles Sage, who placed his order several months ago for the first Fordor Model to be received by the local agency.

CONTRACT FOR HIGHLAND ST. IS HELD BACK

CITY COUNCIL TO HOLD SPE-CIAL MEETING ON SATUR-DAY EVENING.

WENDLING IS LOW BIDDER

Four Bids Opened for Improvement Of Highland Street At Council Session Tuesday Night.

The city council at its regular session Tuesday evening decided to let a contract for the improvement of Highland street at a special meeting to be held Saturday night at 8 o'clock.
Bids for the cement sidewalks, curbs and gutters, four in number, were opened by the council Tuesday night.

The bids are as follows:
Amos Wendling $1,437.98.
Lane and Hendricks $1,500.68 Walter Sublett $1,619.24 Wolfe and Black $1,625.30 After W. Dunbar, city engineer, had figured out the totals of each bid, Councilman Sackett moved that action be deferred until Saturday, pending an investigation as to the reliability of the bidders. The motion was seconded by Councilman Hamaker and was passed by a unanimous vote.

Amos Wendling, low bidder, is said to reside in Roachdale. Councilman Hamaker was instructed by Mayor McGaughey to get in touch with him over the long distance telephone and have him be present at the special meeting.

POSTAL RATES ARE CHANGED

NUMBER OF CHANGES OF IN-TEREST TO GREENCASTLE CITIZENS.

Several changes in the Postal Laws and Regulations will become effective July 1, 1928, according to bulletins being issued by the local postmaster.
Henceforth, private post cards bearing either written or printed messages may be mailed at the rate of 1 cent each, instead of the two cents as for the past several years.

Business reply cards or letters in business reply envelopes may be deposited in the mails without postage being prepaid. The person or firm to whom such communications are addressed will be charged 3 cents for each card, and 2 cents per ounce or fraction of an ounce plus 2 cents for each letter, this to be collected on delivery. These are the regular rates plus a 2 cent handling charge.

When newspapers and magazines are mailed by others than the publisher, the new rate will be 1 cent for each 2 ounces or fraction of 2 ounces, regardless of distance. For ordinary mailings the rates remain the same as heretofore.

Effective August 1, 1928, the rate on domestic mail matter carried by airplane will be reduced to 5 cents for the first ounce or fraction thereof, and 10 cents for each additional ounce or fraction of an ounce, regardless of distance. This includes transportation to and from the air mail route.

Eugene Dixon, who has been at the Putnam County Hospital for the past several weeks recovering from a broken knee which he suffered when he fell from a scaffold while at work at the Indiana Portland Cement plant has recovered sufficiently to be removed to the Clay County Hospital at Brazil, his home.

Mrs. Arthur J. Hamrick of Clayton arrived Wednesday here with friends.

REMONSTRATE ON PROPOSED IMPROVEMENT

MAJORITY OF RESIDENT PROP-ERTY OWNERS SIGN WASH-INGTON REMONSTRANCE.

RESOLUTION IS ADOPTED

Council Passes Preliminary Measure
Tuesday Evening. Lemuel Johns Presents Remonstrance.

A remonstrance, signed by a majority of bona fide resident property owners on east Washington street was presented to the city council Tuesday, asserting opposition to the improvement of the thoroughfare with either emulsified asphalt or concrete. The remonstrance was brought to the council meeting by Lemuel Johns. A number of other citizens who either reside on Washington or have property on that street attended the council session.

The remonstrance was not presented until after the councilmen had adopted the preliminary resolution for the improvement. The motion to adopt was made by Councilman Earl Harris and seconded by Councilman Walter Brown. The mayor told the visitors that the council was only taking this action after they had received a petition asking that Washington street be improved with emulsified asphalt.

A list of resident property owners was secured by the city clerk and this list was checked with the signatures of the remonstrators. It was found that a majority was opposed to the improvement.

The remonstrance was tabled and Mayor McGaughey announced that under the law, if two-thirds of the council vote favorable the improvement may be ordered if action is taken within the next sixty days.

BULLET.

CHICAGO, June 27. (UP)—Timothy D. "Big Tim" Murphy, Chicago labor leader, was shot and killed at his home at 2543 Morse avenue in the exclusive Rogers Park district last-night by assassins who attacked him with machine guns. Only one bullet struck Murphy, police said.

An automobile parked on a side street a few hundred yards away threw its glare of lamps on the labor leader as he stepped from the basement doorway, his silhouette reflected by the basement lights.

In response to a call, "Who's there?" Big Tim was answered by the rat-atat-tat of a machine gun. He fell into the arway, his brother-in-law grabbing his body and dragging it into the bungalow dining room. Police searched the neighborhood in the hope of finding any weapons the slayers might have discarded.

The former labor leader, released from the Federal prison as Leavenworth about a year ago, returned here and announced he was through with all "racketeering" and professed to lead a commercial life, dealing mostly in real estate.
Murphy was convicted of complicity in the $100,000 Dearborn street railroad station mail robbery. Since his return here he has been engaged nevertheless in minor union organization affairs, the latest of which was an attempt to organize a meat dealers' association.

Mrs. Murphy returned home as the brother-in-law, Harry Diggs, brought her husband's body into the room. Diggs escaped injury. Diggs said he saw four or five men in a big automobile.

equality be established by raising the tariff on importations of products grown in substantial surplus above domestic requirements? Sound principles of farm relief must be our pledge.

Robinson rose to a climax of denunciation of the administration of Harding and Coolidge and of what he called a "boast of prosperity, a prosperity evidenced by insolvent banks, bankrupt farmers and merchants, and by millions of unemployed laborers."

"Government property certainly will be safer with the Democrats in power," he said, and sent roaring after this statement the assertion that, "there will be no danger of it being stolen."

The "saturnalia of crime and fraud" during the past and present administrations were said to "invite decisive political revolution."

Co-operation with other powers in the promotion of international peace and in the avoidance of war was named as a principle for his party's foreign policy, coupled with a eulogy of Wilson's administration.

"Who can comprehend, who can define the foreign policy of the Harding and Coolidge administrations?" the speaker asked.

"What is the position now of our country in the opinion of mankind? Our government is unpopular. Our flag is regarded with suspicion and contempt. Nothing has been done; little is proposed that is calculated to invite the confidence and friendship of other peoples. The peace policy has been hesitant, blundersome and futile."

CONVENTION HALL, HOUSTON, June 27 (UP)—Democrats strode firmly today toward nomination of Gov. Al Smith of New York as Presidential candidate.

Swinging into their third session, they moved forward toward the hour when Smith will be named their Standard-bearer, with Senator Joseph Robinson of Arkansas his probable running mate.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 27. (UP)—All seating contests before the Democratic National convention were ended early today when the credentials committee seated all delegations placed on the temporary roll call by the National Committee.

The district of Columbia group, headed by John Costello; the Panama Canal Zone group, headed by Mrs. L. O. Keen, National committee woman, the Louisiana delegation selected by the state Central committee, and the regularly accredited Pennsylvania delegates all were granted seats at the convention.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 27. (UP)—The farm relief issue today took foremost place before the platform makers of the Democratic national convention, elbowing aside the almost settled prohibition question as the chief point of discussion.

Moulding their strategy for the presidential campaign, party leaders had determined to shape their platform to invade the west against Herbert Hoover, the Republican nominee even before Claude G. Bowers' keynote speech. And when Bowers' set the convention afire by his references to farm relief, that issue became paramount in their minds.

But in another sense, it was a sham battle over agriculture, prohibition and some other matters that started today when the platform committee opened its public hearings on the issues to be embodied in the party's statement of principles.

It was a sham battle because leaders already have tentatively agreed among themselves as to what will be done about the controversial issues; and the hearings probably will not cause any material changes in the tentative planks.

MOFFETT-DAVIS NUPTIALS TODAY

Miss Jennie Doyne Davis Becomes Bride of Donovan Moffett At Home of Parents.

Miss Jennie Doyne Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Davis of Newport was married to Donovan C. Moffett of Indianapolis Wednesday morning at ten o'clock at the home of her parents. The beautiful ring ceremony was read by the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. Otis L. Chivington of that city.

The nuptial knot was tied in front of the fire place in the large living room. The brick mantle was banked with ferns and big baskets of flowers tied with pink and orchid tulle. The home throughout was decorated with numerous vases of flowers.

Miss Anna May Martin of Kokomo was the maid of honor. She is a friend of the bride and teacher in the same school as the bride-Arsenal Technical High School. Dr. Clinton H. Glascock of Indianapolis was the best man.

The bride and maid of honor came down the stairway at the stroke of ten and were met at the foot of the stairs by the bride-groom and best man. The bridal party then slowly marched to the front of the banked fire place where they were met by the minister, Mrs. Fannie B. Nelson, an aunt of the bride played very softly during the ceremony, "At Dawning."

After congratulations the guests, which consisted of the immediate families of the contracting parties were invited to the dining room where they were served to a two course wedding breakfast.

The bride and bride-groom left by automobile for New York City where Mr. Moffett will enter Columbia University for a six weeks course to obtain his master's degree in Physical Education which will be received after two more summers.

She is a member of the Phi Mu Sorority, Mortar Board, Eastern Star, Daughters of American Revolution, and the Kappa Kappa Sorority.

REST OF CREW DEAD
ROME, June 27. (UP)—One member of the dirigible Italia's crew was killed when the Polar dirigible crashed May 25. General Umberto Nobile advised today. His report indicated the men who floated away with the balloon perhaps had perished shortly after the crash.

The dirigible sank suddenly May 25 and smashed a gondola. Vincenzo Pomella, an engine man, was killed as his forward engine turret also struck the jagged ice. He was thrown from the turret and subsequently was buried on the out of the way icy island with full honors.

After the cabins had been smashed the bag was lifted, and propelled by a high wind, started floating eastward. Nobile who is painfully injured aboard the Citta Di Milano after having been rescued Saturday—advised that when the bag was 10 kilometers away from the scene of the crash, a pillar of smoke was seen to shoot into the air.

Nobile's official report of the accident said the craft had dropped suddenly from a 500 feet altitude, smashed the gondola on the ice and then drifted away with seven men.

boundary lines of States, and Jefferson was the champion of their sovereign powers.

Hamilton would have concentrated authority remote from the people, and Jefferson would have diffused it among them.

Hamilton would have injected governmental activities into all the affairs of men; and Jefferson laid it down as an axiom of freedom that "that government is best which governs least."

Why, you cannot believe with Lincoln in democracy and with Hamilton against it.

You cannot believe with Lincoln that "God loved the common people or he would not have made so many of them," and with Hamilton that the people are "a great beast."

You cannot believe with Lincoln that the principles of Jefferson are "the definitions and the axioms of a free society," and with Hamilton that they are the definitions of anarchy.

You cannot believe with Lincoln in a government "of the people, by the people and for the people," and with Hamilton in a government of the wealthy, by the influential and for the powerful.

We enter the campaign no strangers to the public. The brilliant record of our eight years of power is as a splash of glorious sunshine against the smutty background of eight years of privilege and crime. In those eight years we wrote more constructive and progressive measures into law than has been written by the opposition in forty years of power.

One thing those eight years did—they buried beyond the reach of resurrection the ancient slander that the party of Wilson is incapable of constructive statesmanship.

They did one thing more—they destroyed the falsehood that Democracy means hard times.

They did another thing—they demolished the fallacy that the party that gave the Federal Reserve system to the nation is an enemy of business.

And those eight years did one thing more—they gave another immortal to the skies.

What a majestic figure was he who led us in those fruitful years! The cold even light of his superb intellect played upon the most intricate problems of the times and they seemed to solve themselves. He lifted the people to such heights of moral grandeur as they had never known before; and his name and purpose made hearts beat faster in lowly places where his praise was sung in every language of the world. And when at length, his body broken, but his spirit soaring still, he fell stricken, while still battling for his faith, there passed to time and eternity and to all mankind the everlasting keeping of the immortal memory of Woodrow Wilson.

Sixteen years ago the late Senator Beveridge warned us of the "invisible government." That invisible government now feels strong enough to take on visibility. From the moment of the election of 1920, there was a mobilization of the Black Horse Cavalry of privilege and pillage, and it cantered down Pennsylvania Avenue, up and down from one end to the other. Strange creatures, new to the capital put in an appearance. Desk room was found for one of these in the Department of Justice. The Best Minds established a temple of the new patriotism in the Little Green House on K street. Men who were the very symbols of privilege, whose fortunes had been made on the favors of the government, were put in possession of the instrumentalities of the state.

Privilege Enthroned

The moment the bell rang these men set to the task of undoing the work of Woodrow Wilson and to the commercialization of the government. In the midst of the usual scandal they hurried a tariff law upon the statutes at a cost of from three to four billions a year to the consumers.

They found the Tariff Commission, we created, an embarrassment—they ignored it. It was not facts they sought. They had promises to keep. When a little later they found it convenient to have a complacent commission to find the facts they sought—they packed it. From that moment the acoustics of the Commission have been had. The cries of the millions for relief cannot be heard, but the dulcet whisper of the pig-iron industry is enough to bring a fifty percent increase in its loot.

They found the Federal Trade Commission in the way—they packed it. They took the weapons we provided for the protection of people against exploitation and turned them over to the powers of pillage.

For example, what stake in government has the farmer of today? From the moment of the realization of the Hamiltonian state under the banner of the bloody shirt in the brutal days of Reconstruction the American farmer has been but a hewer of wood and a drawer of water. During the sixty years of Jeffersonian supremacy the farmer was on an equality with every other industry, and it is no mere coincidence that his decline and degradation began with the triumph of the Hamiltonian state. In the Jeffersonian concept of society the farmer had a position of paramount importance; but in all the political writings of Hamilton the only reference to the farmer is a promise that in compensation for his submission to taxation in the interest of others, he may put his wife and children to work in the mills.

Thus while the little group represented by Mr. Mellon has found fine plucking in the vineyard of the state, there have been nothing but thorns and thistles for the tillers of the soil. And the result is a condition of ruin that is a disgrace to our civilization. Millions of farms have been abandoned. Two million men have been driven from the paternal acres by economic necessity within the year. The hammer of the auctioneer knocking down farmlands has sounded like the continuous bombardment of a major battle in the West. Does the ruling caste want figures? Then take this—in five years of this Administration there has been a depression in the value of farm lands and equipment of thirty billion dollars?

Democracy and Business

Ah, but when we protest against the commercialization of government they say we are enemies of business. Well history refutes them. Thomas Jefferson was not an enemy of business. He merely objected to the use of the instrumentalities of the state to make it possible for a few men to pick the pockets of their fellowmen under the protection of the police.

Andrew Jackson was not an enemy of business. He discriminated between business and brigandage; and he was so much the friend of honest business that he fought to make it free.

Woodrow Wilson was not an enemy of business. In the eight years of his Administrations we gave more intelligent legislative service to honest business than had been given it in a generation before.

We defy them to name a Democratic President who was an enemy of business.

Privilege and Pillage are the Gold Dust twins of normalcy. The Wilson Administration is a green spot bounded on one side by the Mulhall mess and on the other by an oil tanker flying a pirate's flag.

The last seven and a half years have been putrid beyond precedent. We make no charge—we follow the official record.

We have seen a governmental department designed for the legal protection of the people converted into a rendezvous for the barterers of illegal permits.

We have seen the agents of the Department of Justice sent forth at the nation's cost and with the Administration's sanction on the infamous mission of "framing" a United States Senator who had dared expose the criminality of its proceedings. Nothing more disgraceful blackened the days of the Federalist Sedition Law. A baser and more rascally prostitution of the judicial processes has not shamed the story of a civilized nation since the unspeakable Jeffries sat upon the bench. And he died, deservedly like a miserable felon in the Tower.

Shameful as these things are, more shameful far has been the cynical silence and indifference of the high functionaries of the state to whom the people had a right to look for the protection of the nation's property and the nation's honor. We submit in no spirit of political floundering that it is a shocking thing that we have waited vainly for seven years for one word, one syllable, one whisper of the mildest criticism of these criminals and crimes from a single representative of the Administration.

And why the silence in the watch-tower? Because the organization of the party of the men stationed there was a beneficiary of the crime. Not only did it know of the crime, and maintain silence—it knew of the division of the spoils and knew that a goodly part was being used to pay the party debt.

What a picture of American history! We see the erstwhile chairman of the National Committee of the regime in power laying aside his duties as an elder of the church to sink into the office of Sinclair to get the tainted bonds. We see him sneaking about like a receiver of stolen goods to men of means to persuade them dishonestly to contribute these to the party fund under cover. We see him sending a portion of these bonds to the dictator of the Administration, affectionately known as "Andy," and thus we know that the high functionaries of the state knew that the party was to be a beneficiary of the crime. And the revered head of the Treasury made no protest against the party taking its share out of the pot pilged by he pillaging of the nation's property. Silence was golden—for the party chest.

And so we go forth to recover the government from those who pillage by law as well as those who steal by stealth. Even as a minority we dragged these loathsome crimes to light. We exposed the stealing, the perjury, the silences of the sacrosanct. We forced the restitution of the nation's stolen goods. We compelled the expulsion of Daugherty and the prosecution of Fall. Put us in possession of the government and we will turn the light on every crack and crevice and cleanse the Augean stables from now to manger.

Four million jobless men is not prosperity; a million abandoned farms is not prosperity; the utter ruin of the basic industry of America is not prosperity; the failure of 4000 banks in the seven years of normalcy is not prosperity; the failure of 23,146 commercial houses in 1927 is not prosperity; and if this year's record is foreshadowed by the first four months there will be 28,000 commercial failures in 1928.

Mythical prosperity, mythical economy, mythical facts, mythical figures and mythical men, the last eight years may well be treated by the historian of the far future as the mythical age of American history.

And so we are going back—back to the old landmarks of liberty and justice in this campaign. Let me suggest a text for people grown cynical and confused. "Saith the Lord, stand ye in the ways and see, and ask for the old paths, which is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls."

We are mobilized to lead the people back to the old baths of constitutional liberty, and to the good way. We are going back—back to the old landmarks of liberty and equality when ordinary men had rights that even power respected; when justice, not privilege, was the watchword of the state; when the preamble of the Declaration and the bill of Rights had meaning; when the nation embraced every section and every class; and before the Pittsburgh Bratiano had decided to make Roumanian peasants of American farmers to fill the coffers of a purse-proud caste.

We face a foe grown arrogant with success. It were infamy to permit the enemy to divide us, or divert us, on the eve of such a battle. Issues are involved that go to the determination of the future of our institutions and our children. The call that comes to us is as sacred as the cause of humanity itself. From the grave at the Hermitage comes the solemn warning that no party ever won or deserved to win that did not organize and fight unitedly for victory—and we shall thus organize and fight. This is a unique campaign. The very precinct committeemen and the district captains become minute men of liberty in the reassertion of the principles of freedom.

And we shall win because our cause is just. The predatory forces before us seek a triumph for the sake of the sacking. Their shock troops are the Black Horse Cavalry whose hoof-beats have made hideous music on Pennsylvania Avenue during the last eight years. They are led by money-mad cynics and scoundrels—and we go forth to battle for the cause of man. In the presence of such a foe "he who dallies is a dastard and he who doubts is damned." In this connection we close debate and grasp the sword. The time has come. The battle hour has struck. Then to your tents, O, Israel!
